Fun Ways to Make Extra Money

Mow Lawns

This requires a little sweat, but the pay-off is usually worth it. If you are too young to mow, consider weeding flower beds and gardens or watering plants while your neighbor travels.

Wash Cars

Grab a pail and sponge and get scrubbing. Hand out and post fliers around your neighborhood to start out. If you work with a friend, it's much easier to offer and accomplish more services.

Pet Sitting

One of the easiest ways to make a few bucks is watching over the neighbors' pets while they are on vacation. You can take care of, walk and feed the dog or even sprinkle some fish food into the aquarium. It might seem easy to watch a pet, but it's an important job.

Sell Lemonade

A lemonade stand is a perfect way to make money no matter how old you are. You can set it up in the driveway on a hot day and wait for people to come up.

Baby Sitting

If you are not old enough to babysit on your own, market your services as a "Parent's Helper" where you play with and distract the children while the parent in the house is doing other tasks. Keep the children safe and happy and tidy up any kid messes. If the parents are impressed with your services, they may hire you again. They also will tell their friends about what a great job you did. This will lead to new customers.
